

CARE Haiti

Poor or lack of governance is an underlying cause of poverty in most developing countries. CARE Haiti places strong emphasis on developing the principles of good governance in all its programme sectors. CARE defines Governance as the effective, participatory, transparent, equitable and accountable management of public affairs guided by agreed procedures and principles, to achieve the goals of sustainable poverty reduction and social justice. Good governance ensures that corruption is minimized, the views of minorities - particularly women and children - are taken into account, and that the voices of the most vulnerable in society are heard. Good governance is also responsive to the present and future needs of a society. In addition to incorporating good governance in cross-cutting sectors, CARE develops and supports governance initiatives in specific community based activities lead by local actors.

Objectives

- Strengthen capacity of local leaders in the development of their communities
- Improve citizen participation in the democratic processes from planning to implementation
- Raise awareness on rights and responsibilities through governance related networks

Projects

The Partnership Council of Seine Maritime in the town of Dame Marie aims to foster an institutional partnership between the Department of Seine Maritime in France and the Commune of Dame Marie in northwestern Haiti. The project focuses on the areas of emergency relief and sustainable development in land use, housing, economy and employment. Activities center on the development of fishing, agriculture, environment, culture, youth and sport, health, infrastructure and capacity building of the Community. The projects also seek to strengthen ties with neighboring municipalities and more generally strengthen links between all towns within the Grand Anse region in Haiti.
